

Signs and symptoms of complete blockage

- No output from your stoma for 6 to 12 hours or longer
- Severe cramping and pain
- Bloating
- Swelling of the stoma
- Nausea and vomiting

If you have these symptoms tell your healthcare professional as sometimes you can manage the blockage at home. If you experience vomiting, have pain that worsens or does not go away, or have symptoms persisting after 12 hours, you should seek medical attention.
